Norway Municipal Court.

WM. F. JONES, JUDGE.

Tuesday morning, appeared Elnor Tyler of Buckfield and pleaded guilty to the larceny of fish from D. C. Walker and disposing of the same. Deputy Sheriff A. E. Cole had chased Tyler to Wilton. The judge imposed a sentence of 10 days to jail.

For operating a moving picture machine without a license Oscar N. Chamberlain was brought before Judge Jones. He had run the machine in Oxford and had set up to run it at Concord Hall, Norway, when he was stopped by the authorities. It was said to be a dangerous machine, run by electricity and using celluloid film. A fine of $25 was placed by the court, but filed as the respondent agreed to stop using the machine illegally.

Norway Woman in the Shaw Case. A. W. Shaw, alias A. W. Willis, wanted id Boston for the embezzlement of $10,000 from the A. W. Shaw Co., shoe manufacturers, was arrested in Los Angeles, Tuesday.

Mrs. Georgia Stuart who was arrested in Boston, Monday, as an accessory before and after the fact in embezzling the funds of the A. W. Shaw Co. of Freeport was given a hearing Monday before the Municipal Court. Upon recommendation of her counsel the case was continued until Feb. 27. In default of $3,000 bail Mrs. Stuart was taken to the Charles street jail.

Mrs. Stuart was a former Norway girl, Georgia Mayo. She worked in the shoe factory here in Norway. She married Albert Osmond Stuart about 13 years ago, who as a boy lived with his parents on their farm in Yaggar. When he became a young man he worked in the Norway shoe factory. Soon after their marriage they moved to Exeter, N. H., and afterwards to Marlboro, Mass. They were both employed in a shoe factory.

About eight years ago Mr. Stuart died and the body was brought to the house of his sister and buried in the family lot in Pine Grove. She has a sister living in Yarmouth, Mrs. J. Courtney, and many think that it was her name which Mrs. Stuart may have used.

When Mrs. Stuart went to Boston eight years ago she took a house at 511 Massachusetts avenue and ran it as a lodging house. Two months ago she sold the furniture and moved to the Albemarle Chambers.

It is said that Shaw occupied a room at the lodging house on his visits to Boston.

Mrs. Stuart has a brother, Frank H. Mayo, who lives in Lewiston.

Mr. Sturt died of cancer of the stomach on Feb. 9, 1905. His wife was devoted to him and nursed him tenderly, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Mayo. After her husband's death, Mrs. Stuart received $2000 from a life insurance policy and she left Marlboro shortly afterward and went to Boston.

It is believed that Mrs. Shaw first met her through his daughters who are said to have roomed at her lodging house while they attended the New England Conservatory of music.

About a year ago Mrs. Stuart was in Norway and Lewiston for a short time. She is an unusually attractive woman.

A Night with the Wild Cats.

The Wild Cats crowned themselves with glory once more, when they had as their guest of honor, with several other gentlemen from Norway; Don Seitz of New York, who recently spoke at the board of trade banquet. The entertainment was done at Dr. F. N. Barker's farm, several miles out of the village, and after supper a smoke talk was enjoyed.

The party drove to the farm in two large sleighs and about seven o'clock sat down to a supper, well deserving of the credit given it. The menu consisted of beef steak, baked potatoes, onions, doughnuts, cake, coffee, and cheese. After supper Mr. Seitz spoke on town improvements, good roads, etc., and was very convincing in his argument. Several of the other men present were called upon and there was a late hour before the party disbanded.

In this gathering were, Dr. B. F. Bradbury, Dr. H. L. Bartlett, Dr. F. N. Barker, John Swain, John Shepard, A. J. Stearns, H. F. Andrews, E. E. Andrews, all members of the Wild Cat Club; S. B. Cummings, Fred H. Cummings, George I. Cummings, A. S. Haskell, G. L. Curtis, George W. Homes, H. L. Horne, H. P. Jones, Charles Sargent, F. L. Noyes, Thomas Thibodeau, Stewart W. Goodwin, James N. VOLUME XLIII.

The Catholic Circle.

The Ladies' circle of St. Catherine's Catholic church opened their fair, Monday, with a good attendance. It was held in G. A. R. hall and continued through Tuesday. The articles were sold out and a good sum realized.

The several booths on which were daily fancy articles, aprons, candy and fruit, mystery packages, and ice cream were attractively decorated, green, yellow and white being the prevailing colors.

One corner in particular, was very popular with the little folks. This was the fish pond, where a tissue paper oval, covered screen hid the pond in which all sorts of mysterious fish must have been swimming about, for whenever a line was thrown over, it was immediately twiggled, and when it came into sight again it always bore a gift.

"In A Bad Way"

Many a Norway Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; When urinary troubles set in; Your kidneys are "in a bad way." Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is good evidence of their worth. J. O. Ripley, blacksmith, Oxford St., South Paris, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured of an attack of kidney trouble. For several months I was feeling quite miserable and there were pains across the small of my back. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and unnatural. I finally procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had used them a short time the pains disappeared and my kidneys caused me no further trouble." (Statement given July 25, 1908.)

PRaises Doan's Again.
On July 19, 1911, Mr. Ripley said: "I have had very little occasion to use a kidney remedy since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me in 1908. I am constantly recommending this remedy to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever;

and cure out of the ear by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for ANTICS OF AN ACTOR.

The Prank the Elder Sothern Played in a London Shop.

One day the elder Sothern, the creator of Lord Dunsany, went into an ironmonger's shop in London and asked for Macaulay's "History of England." "We do not sell books, sir,"

said the assistant. "This is an iron-monger's shop." "Well, I'm not particular," said Sothern, pretending to be deaf. "I don't care whether it is bound in calf or russet." "But this is not a bookseller's," shouted the assistant.

"All right," said Sothern, "wrap it up neatly. I want to have it sent down to the hotel. It's for a present I wish to make to a relative." "We don't keep it," shouted the assistant, getting red in the face. "Do it up as if it were for your own mother. I don't want anything better than that," said Sothern.

"I would like to write my name on the flyleaf." "Sir," bawled the assistant at the top of his voice, "don't you see we do not keep books?" "Very well," replied Sothern, quite undisturbed; "I will wait for it." The assistant ran into the next room and appealed to his master, saying he thought the customers must be off his head. "What is it, sir? What do you desire?" asked the ironmonger of Sothern as he and his flustered salesman came into the shop. "I want to buy a file," said the actor—"a plain file, four or five inches long." "Certainly, sir," said the master, casting a withering glance at his assistant.

The Scrap Book

Expecting Too Much.

Elliott Woods, superintendent of the capitol, tells a story about a new member of the house whose frugality
he is always commending to his congressional friends.

The new member arrived in town and hunted for a room. He found a rooming house and superintendent. Woods up immediately.

"I reckon I'd like to look at my quarters," he said to the superintendent.

He was taken to a house of office building and shown to one of the substantially furnished office rooms.

"This is fine," said the new member.
"But where are my other rooms?"

"Oh, you can't have another room for several years—not until you have become chairman of a committee," replied Woods.

"What's that?" exclaimed the new congressman in dismay. "How do you expect me to sleep, cook, eat and work in one room?" — New York World.

Laugh It Off.

When you can't make any headway
And each day seems like a dead day
And the thorns begin to pierce till your nerves are shattered, racked,
Stop a bit, get busy quaffing
From the bottle labeled "Laughing!"— Set your fill and then start over. It's a tonic, for a fact.

Are you grumpy? Are you fadd? Do you feel all worn and faded?
Every time some fresh work doth claim you?
Have you lost the thing called tact?
Try a cup of sunny chaffing.
Sweetened up with merry laughing.
It's the best thing on the market for a
tonic, for a fact.

A Dangerous Story.

A Yale undergraduate had been having a fairly lively time of it during his summer vacation, and his allowance had not been keeping schedule time with his expenditures.

He was invited out to dinner with his mother, and he was seen to get a bit nervous when she began one of her favorite stories. This concerned the burning of their home, on which occasion the son's vacation, left on a bureau, was found ticking in the ruins after the house had been destroyed.

At the conclusion of the story
the college boy LEFT THE ROOM, jumped up abruptly and left the room
with his handkerchief over his face
as if suddenly seized with nose bleed.
He did not return for several minutes,
by which time the conversation had drifted.

After dinner the "undergrad" chum asked the significance of the move.

"I'll tell you, but nobody else," said
he. "When mother told that story I was afraid she was going to ask me to show the watch." — Chicago Post.

Full of Snap.

Gretchen, the daughter of an old German named Kruegel, had been serving as domestic about two weeks in the household of the local judge when father and employer met on the village street.

"Well, yoodge," said Kruegel, "how you like dot Gretchen by dis dime al-retty?"

"Like her?" returned the judge in his blunt way. "Why, she's just great! We never had any one in the house in her line that entered into work with so much spirit. She's full of snap all the time."

Kruegel turned pondering away,
and, meeting his frau at his home
portal, he sorrowfully said: "Teresa, something must goe wrong mit dot Gretchen. I yoozt dit meeted the yoodge, and he said dot she vas full of schnapps all de time."

Setting His Bill.

The late Eugene Field when a resident of Kansas City drifted into a lame one evening with a party of friends. Along came the proprietor and asked Field if he couldn't arrange to square up that little account of his that had been running so long.

"How much is it, anyhow?" asked the future author of "Little Boy Blue."

"It's about $38," said the proprietor.
"Couldn't you square that up now?"

"Haven't got the money," declared Field. "If I had I'd pay you."

"Well, I'll settle for whatever you've got," chanced the proprietor.

Whereupon Field went through his clothes and dug up from all sources
the sum of 65 cents. The proprietor was game and settled the $38 account for Field's pile.

But that wasn't all. "Isn't it customary," inquired Field, "for the proprietor to set 'em up when a customer lame in and squares up a $38 account?"

"Well, yes, I suppose it is customary," admitted the proprietor. "Sure it is. What'll you have?"

"I don't know what the rest of the crowd wants," says Field, "but I know what I want. I'll take a bottle of champagne."

You can't prove you are a good talker by doing it all. Comparisons are needed. — Atchison Globe.

Feared a Freshet.

In the "upper end" of Pike county,
Pa. there is a man who is so noted for his conversational abilities that his acquaintances avoid giving him unnecessary opportunities to talk.

One cold morning this man rode up to a hotel in the neighborhood just as

"HAS ANYTHING HAPPENED?"

The guests were finishing breakfast.
He dismounted, walked in, saluted the landlord in his usual loud tones and declared in a boisterous torrent of words that he was so cold he could hardly talk.

Just then a nervous traveler who was present stepped up to the landlord,
and, taking him by the coat, said:
"Mr. L., have my horse brought as soon as possible."

"What is the matter, my dear sir?"
inquired the anxious landlord. "Has anything happened?"

"Nothing, nothing! Only I want to get away from here before that man thaws." — Boston Herald.

He Got His.

The tired patient wife had finally hushed her alling infant to sleep and had tenderly laid it in its little bed.

The head of the house was at home, peevish and faultfinding. At length
he became unendurable.

"You've done nothing but make mistakes tonight," he growled.

"Yes," she answered meekly; "I began by putting the wrong baby to bed."

Expected a Fight.

A Fifeshire farmer gave his herd laddie, Jamie, a half wit, a ticket to admit him to a sacred recital in a neighboring town to be given by local talent and told the lad to be sure to enjoy himself.

The farmer was greatly surprised to find his servant in the kitchen long before the conclusion of the performance, and upon asking him why he had returned from the recital Jamie replied:

"Weel, maister, ae man yonder began to sing 'I'm the King of Glory,' then another said he was the king of glory,
and when I saw three others standin' up an' sayin' they were the kings of glory I kent there was to be a fecht,
so I can awa' an' left them to finish
it amon' themsel's."

The Pebble Industry.

A peculiar form of mineral wealth is found on Plum Island and Goose island, two of a row of islands lying between the northern point of Long Island and Watch hill. It consists in heaps of richly colored quartz pebbles, showing red, yellow, purple and other hues, which are locally called agates.

They are used in making stained glass windows, and there is a sufficient demand for them in New York to keep the owners of one or two sloops employed in gathering them from the beaches, where the waves continually roll and polish them, bringing out the beauty of their colors. — Scientific American.

The First Wheels.

Although it seems difficult to realize a world without wheels, these useful spheres, which have now become necessities, were not used in England until comparatively recent times. It was not till the year 1568 that the very first carriage with wheels attached was made. This was built for and by the orders of Queen Elizabeth.

The first public conveyance that plied for hire as a cab was not in use until 1625, while the ancestor of our dear old horse buses, the stagecoach, did not arrive on the streets till 1659.

Who can tell how many years it will be before we can dispense with wheels altogether? — London Mail.

TRAINING CHILDREN.

More lies are told by mothers, fathers and nurses to children than all the rest of the lies put together. We lie to them with false threats; we lie to them with false promises; we lie to them with false stories; we teach them by our practice that a child has not a right to truth, and then we wonder that they learn the lesson.

In Lewiston, Feb. 19, Henry Davis of Redding, aged 75 years.
In Hartford, Feb. 9, Guy Ames, aged 58 years.

Henry Davis.

Henry Davis, Esq., of Redding died in the Central Maine General hospital at Lewiston, about 6 o'clock, Monday morning. Mr. Davis had been for a few days with his son, Geo. H. Davis, at South Paris, and on Wednesday of last week went to the hospital for consultation with regard to an affection of his right arm, which had been troubling him for some time.

On Friday an operation was performed which required an extensive cutting to get at the bone and the shock proved to be too severe for him to rally. Mr. Davis was the son of Benjamin Davis and was born in Woodstock. Most of his life has been spent in that town and in Milton. He was nearly 74 years of age. He was by occupation a farmer and been a justice of the peace for years, had held all of the town offices at different times nearly his whole life and a lifelong Republican. He was honored and respected by all and one whose word was as good as his bond.

Square dealing was his motto. Always taking a great interest in his work and all of his surroundings, a great reader, and always well informed on all questions. A good man has gone and one that will be missed. On account of failing health he had to give up work.

He belonged to the Knights of Pythias and was a member of Oxford Bear lodge of Hanover and was a member of Franklin Grange, Bryant Pond.

He leaves four children, George H. Davis of South Paris, Mrs. Cora R., wife of D. W. Pratt of Redding, with whom he had made his home of late, Frank E. Davis of Southwick, Mass., and Lizzie G., wife of George E. Redding of Redding.

Of the ten children of Benjamin Davis he is survived by only one, Miss Emma Jane Davis.

The funeral was held at Mr. Pratt's at Redding, Wednesday, at 10 a. m. under the auspices of Hanover Lodge, K. of P. attended by Rev. L. W. Raymond of West Paris and burial at Milton, his former home.

Mrs. Georgia Mayo Stuart's bill has been reduced from $8000 to $2500 and friends have gone on her bill. She has returned to her Back Bay apartments.

PRETTY HOMEMADE SCREEN.

How to Do the Work Easily and at Trifling Expense.

A useful ornamental bed or sitting room screen can be made at home by getting from a builder's supply shop four slater's laths, saving each off to the length of fifty-seven inches. This will leave six short pieces twenty-four inches long.

Nail the pieces together firmly to form two frames, putting a short piece across the center of each frame to brace it.

Select cheap cretonne to harmonize with the color of the room in which you wish to use the screen. Blue and white is a good color combination for a bedroom. Get three and one-quarter yards, which will cover one side of each frame.

Lay the frames on the floor and tack the cretonne on each of them, folding the material over each end and the sides, taking care to stretch it over the frames tightly and smoothly. This forms the back of the screen. On the front part put two pieces of stiff cardboard eight inches wide and the width of the screen that has previously been covered with dark blue sateen. Tack these firmly to the top of the frame, and to the lower edges plait blue and white flowered lawn extending the length of the screen.

All around the edges, with brass headed tacks, put a binding of white tape.

This can be a plain or fancy weave. The latter adds to the attractiveness of the screen. Tack the tape on the plain sateen surface so that it forms eight-inch small squares.

Repeat this on both frames and join them at each end with strong brass hinges. With small expense and very little trouble you will have a good looking screen that will answer every purpose designed for such a piece of furniture.

HOW TO MARK LINEN.

Suggestions For Putting on Lettering So It Will Be Lasting.

Napkins, tablecloths, sheets, pillowcases and table mats are frequently marked with an insert of lace, with the lettering done on that rather than worked solidly on the material itself. This method is stylish and effective, its one drawback being rather poor wearing qualities.

Bits of net or canvas the required size are lettered, then basted carefully on the linen. The edges closely button-holed in a narrow straight seam and the material cut away beneath. Leave an edge to turn back and be hemmed to the linen on the wrong side or greater firmness.

Various lettering is used on the inserts. If fillet net is chosen the letters are done in the regular fillet stitches, of cross stitch and darning. Sometimes heavier canvas is used and the letters cross stitched in all white or in two or three tones of one color.

An effective lettering is to have heavily padded satin stitch initials on a firm net or a small designed dotted all over lace. This novelty is more suited to centerpiece and bureau covers than to handsome bed or table linens, which last a long time and should be treated conservatively.

Never use flimsy net for a background and make sure it is tightly stitched to prevent pulling or fraying in laundering.

Architecture.

Architecture is the art of making four brick walls and sundry partitions look like something else in preparing any other part of the meal. Use cold water, allowing one heaping teaspoonful of coffee to each cup and one to the pot. Place on fire, let come to a boil, then turn fire low and allow to simmer fifteen minutes, always keeping covered tightly. To settle pour in a little cold water.

Matthew Sylvaticus established the world's first botanical garden at Salerno, Italy, in 1300.

HOW TO PREVENT BALDNESS.

Don't Use the Shampoo Too Often. Tight Hats Injurious.

Many people overdo the matter of making applications to the scalp, applying strong alcoholic preparations or other so called tonics too frequently. Others with an excess of pains bathe it too frequently, especially with cold water, as is the case with people who take a daily cold shower bath. Others indulge too frequently in the luxury of a shampoo, according to a writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

While the occasional washing of the hair is beneficial, too frequent applications of water to the hair do harm by withdrawing the natural oil from the hair and scalp. The best authorities advise shampooing the scalp not more frequently than once a week and not less frequently than once a month. Probably nothing better can be used on these occasions than castile soap and warm water.

It is a common belief and appears to be well founded that too closely covering the head has a bad effect on the growth of the hair. The stiff hats so commonly worn by men at the present day, which fit so closely about the head and which are worn by many so constantly, it can readily be believed would have a bad influence on the hair.

In the first place, the tight binding of the scalp must interfere with the circulation through the scalp and around the hair papillae, and in the second place, the space in the crown of the hat must allow a considerable quantity of air to become heated above the temperature of the body, and this also must have a bad effect on the nutrition of the hair.

While a certain amount of sunshine and fresh air is probably beneficial to the hair, on the other hand, it is probably better that the hair and scalp should be protected from constant exposure to the rays of the sun and to the wind and dust.

With women the case is somewhat different, but they have their special unhygienic practices which must be mentioned and condemned, especially the curling of the hair by winding it about curling irons or doing it up in curl papers over night.

In women, if the hair is found to be cracking at the ends and becoming thin and unhealthy, the ends should be cut off. Most men habitually have their hair cut frequently. Whether this is of advantage or a mistake is not so easily decided. There are good arguments on both sides.

HOW TO CARE FOR BATTERIES

Terminals Must Be Watched or Motorist Will Have Trouble.

One of the greatest causes for the necessity of calling for the aid of the friendly horse in the early days of motoring was the dry batteries employed as the sole means of furnishing the ignition current. Nowadays nearly every car is equipped with a magneto, and the dry cells are used merely in starting the machine. In this capacity they are satisfactory, since the work is merely of an intermittent nature, according to the Auto mobile.

A great many motorists have trouble with their dry batteries because they do not give them the proper care and attention. In order to have a current of sufficient amperage and voltage it is necessary to connect several cells in series or in multiple. This is done by means of short insulated wires, which are apt to come loose with a very little vibration. If one terminal is partially disconnected the whole battery is practically dead; therefore all connections on the primary circuit must be clean and absolutely bright.

Care should be taken to place dry cells in a dry insulated box and to arrange them so that the excessive vibration does not cause them to chafe. A troublesome short circuit may often be traced to this cause.

How to Clean the Inside of Shoes. It is possible to clean the inside of shoes thoroughly, and the process will appeal to neat women.

Take an old toothbrush which has been thoroughly cleansed with hot water and washing soda—or a new brush, for that matter—wet slightly, soap it enough to make light suds, and with it carefully rub and clean the inside of your shoes. It is not necessary to get them very wet. The chemical action of the soap does the work. Let the suds remain a few minutes, then rinse with the brush in the same way, put the shoes on ventilated shoe trees to dry in the air, and they will be as fresh as a new pair—Harper's Bazar.

How to Clean Silver. Some housekeepers who do not enjoy cleaning silver may be glad to know of a very simple labor saving device.

Place articles to be cleaned in an aluminum dish nearly filled with hot water, in which any mild white soap has been dissolved. Allow them to soak a few moments, then remove and wipe each article carefully with a soft cloth. Not only will all discolorations be removed, but the tiny crevices in the decorated parts, which are often so difficult to clean, will be brightened as if by magic.

How to Make Coffee.

As much care should be taken in making coffee as in preparing any other part of the meal. Use cold water, allowing one heaping teaspoonful of coffee to each cup and one to the pot. Place on fire, let come to a boil, then turn fire low and allow to simmer fifteen minutes, always keeping covered tightly. To settle pour in a little cold water.

A SUBSTANTIAL COLONIAL.

Design 933, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

In this house the living-room and parlor are divided with a wide columned opening. I would suggest, if any one desires, this space can all be made into one large living room, and the vestibule can be left out entirely or can be built the entire size of same on the piazza, thus leaving the living room with regular lines inside. The dining room in this residence is finished in quarter sawed oak, with a beamed ceiling and a large sideboard across the rear. This room is made very pleasant by a projecting bay window, back of which is a small conservatory which can be used for a den or sewing room. There is a combination open stairway to the second story; also a rear entrance to the basement leading from the entry. The ice can be put in the refrigerator in the pantry from the outside. This house has a grand piazza covering the entire front and part of one side, which is ten feet wide, and if any one desires there can be a sleeping porch or sun room built across the entire rear over the first one story part. The second story has four good chambers and an unlimited amount of closet space, large bath and a hall. There is a full basement under the entire house. The finish in first story is planned for oak throughout with oak floors, second story pine to paint or Washington fir. First story is nine feet high, second story eight feet, these heights being in the clear, and there is also space in the attic for two or three rooms. The size of the house is 28 by 30 feet. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3,850.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans entitled "American Dwellings." The book contains 240 new and up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

"THE CITY PRACTICAL"

Business Competition So Sharp It Must Be Provided For.

"Some of the big cities of the country and many more of the second rank are seriously entering upon a comprehensive plan which will result not only in a city beautiful, but also a city practical and a city sensible," said Representative W. P. Borland addressing the City club of Kansas City, Mo.

Competition between cities is becoming keen, and the one that offers the best advantages for homes and business will get the population and trade. A civic center formed by the grouping of important public buildings might be part of the plans. They would also include a topographical survey of the city area and the outlying lands to determine the best routes of traffic, the easiest grades for ingress and egress and the best location for factories and terminals.

Business is necessary to make the city grow, and homes are needed to make it attractive. Too many people have to live too far from their work and pay a daily tribute to the street cars for the privilege of toiling. They do this because sufficient decent and attractive homes cannot be found near to business. Clean and pretty side streets should be found within walking distance of parks, playgrounds, schools and business.

RID CITY OF TIN CANS.

Children of Kansas Town Claim Bounty For Good Work.

The boys and girls of Hill City, Kan., have recently cashed in for ridding the city of more than 33,000 tin cans and other pieces of scrap. City Marshal Yerkes has been busy getting rid of the rubbish. More than thirty-one large loads have been hauled away, and cleaner conditions prevail.

He hit upon the novel scheme of paying the boys and girls of the city 5 cents for every hundred pieces brought to the wagons from the alleys of the town. A draw runs through the center of the city and has long been known as the "trail of the tin can." Although the name may still stick, the cans have disappeared, and it is no longer used as a place to haul junk.

Early Printing In New York.

Printing presses were forbidden in the province of New York by royal authority in 1688. On March 25, 1693, printing was ordered to be introduced, and William Bradford was appointed public printer.

HOW TO COOK CABBAGE.

This Method Will Do Away With the Rank Flavor.

If cabbage is properly cooked it will be free from rank flavor. After quartering and slicing the head, rejecting, of course, the outside leaves and heart, cook for ten minutes in salted water. Then pour off the water, put the vegetable in a sieve and set it under the cold water faucet. The sieve should be set in a big earthen bowl, and as the water fills up the bowl it should be poured off and fresh water run over the vegetable again, so that every part of it is thoroughly freshened.

When well rinsed lift up the sieve, drain the cabbage and cut it into small pieces. Put it on the fire again in an enamel lined pot, cover with milk and let it cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Season with salt and pepper while cooking. About ten minutes before serving mix some soft butter and flour to a paste—enough to thicken the milk so that it forms a nice white sauce around it.

To Clean Patent Leather.

Clean patent leather shoes with a sponge and warm water. Warm the leather with gentle heat, but take care not to get it too hot, and apply sweet oil or olive oil with or without an equal quantity of turpentine. Apply the oil with a sponge or cloth and rub with the palms of the hands while the leather is warm. Apply ordinary blacking to the edges of the soles or liquid varnish blacking with a sponge or brush, but do not apply paste or liquid blacking to patent leather.

How to Keep Cream Fresh.

To keep cream fresh and sweet heat it almost to a boiling point, put it in a glass bottle, cover and set aside to cool. Cream thus treated will keep sweet and fresh for several days in moderate weather and over the second day in warm weather.

CLEANLINESS.

Cleanliness is next to godliness. What an ideal world this would be if cleanliness were the rule everywhere and in everything—clean houses, clean streets, clean bodies, clean hearts, clean accounts and clean characters! If you know of any unclean spots, wipe them out.

THE KEELY INSTITUTE

Oldest and Best Known Institution in Maine for Treatment of Liquor and Drug Addictions. Dr. T. B. Morrissey, Manager and Physician-in-Charge.

What is known as the "Keely Cure" for Liquor and Drug using was discovered by Dr. Leslie E. Keely of Dwight, Illinois, more than a third of a century ago. Since that time the Keely Treatment for Liquor, Opium and Nervous Diseases has been constantly and successfully administered through the medium of Keely Institutes, one or more of which are located in nearly every State of the Union, Canada, England and Mexico.

The Keely Treatment was established in Maine over twenty years ago; its success was immediate and continuous and its permanency and stability as an institution has been fully established. The Maine Keely Institute has, for the past fifteen years, been located at 151 Congress St., Portland, Maine, on Manjoy Hill, in a building where modern conveniences and accommodations tend to increase the comfort of the patients.

This Institute—the only one in the State—is the oldest and best known institution in Maine for the treatment of liquor and drug addictions. Since its establishment a small army of men and women have been cured here and restored to health, family and earning capacity. For many years the Institute was under the management of Mr. J. L. Lovett, who retired in July, 1911, having disposed of his interests to Dr. T. B. Morrissey, who has since been Manager and Physician-in-Charge. For a number of years previous to August, 1900, Dr. Morrissey was the Physician-in-Charge at this Institute and is personally acquainted with a large number of the former patients of this Institute.

Dr. Morrissey is a graduate of R. M. Medical college, of the University of Chicago, and is a licensed practitioner in the State of Maine. His entire time for more than twelve years has been devoted to the study and treatment of liquor and drug addictions. During this time he has been connected with some of the largest Keely Institutes in the United States and Canada, and has been a member of the medical staff at the parent Institute, Dwight, Illinois. For four years previous to his coming to Portland, he was in charge of the Keely Institute at Salt Lake City, Utah. He is a specialist in the treatment of the diseases and conditions resulting from the use of liquor, opium, morphine, cocaine and other narcotic drugs.

It is an established fact that the Keely Treatment continues to be recognized by the public as the best, successful treatment for the diseases before mentioned. Imitators pay high, though unwonted, tribute to the Keely Cure in their constant recognition of it by comparison of their treatments to it, thus giving it precedence as the standard. All concede that it is the best known and most widely used of any, and so fully identified with the name of Keely as the treatment for liquor and drug addictions become that many people assume that every establishment where such treatment is administered must be a Keely Institute.

This is a mistake and sometimes has worked to the disadvantage of the Keely Treatment. There is one unfailing test, no Keely remedies are administered anywhere except in establishments authorized by the Leslie E. Keely Company of Dwight, Illinois, and known by the uniform name of The Keely Institute. There is no exception to this rule.

The Keely Treatment, in four weeks' time, relieves drink patients from all craving, appetite and necessity for alcoholic stimulants. Users of opium, morphine, cocaine, laudanum and other narcotic drugs are relieved in from four to six weeks.

All Keely Institutes the hypodermic method of treatment is constantly used, which, according to all reputable physicians, is painless, prompt and efficient. Under the Keely system of treatment there is no nausea or sickness of any kind, and no nauseous, emetics or other irrational methods are ever employed. The Treatment cures by restoring the system to a normal condition, and removes all craving, desire or necessity for liquor or drugs.

Street cars from all depots and steamer landings connect with the Manjoy Hill car, which runs direct from the Union Station To the Keely Institute, 151 Congress St., Portland, Me.

DENMARK.

Mrs. Molly Pligree is having an ill turn. A. H. Witham also is poorly and had the doctor Saturday evening. He gets out a little.

Elwood Pligree has sold some pine timber to Mrs. Sanborn and is sawing it to Mr. Sanborn's mill. Lots of timber is being hauled to the mill and lots of wood is being drawn by the farmers. The gasoline engines are saving it.

Friday, while a young lady driving C. E. Cobb's team from the hotel to take the scholars to the high school building, was turning the team, the horse turned too short and left the young lady in the snow and she had to walk home. The horse made quick time to the stable. Fortunately no harm occurred.

EAST STONEHAM.

Mrs. Charles Brown is improving. Charles Chaplin is hauling hay from Charles York's in Albany.

Brown tail moths are abundant in this vicinity. George Brown and Will Decker are hunting them.

F. H. Bartlett has been ill with a bad cold, and three of his children. They are all improving at the present writing. Mrs. Lucie McAllister and Mrs. Esther Decker spent the afternoon, Friday, with Mrs. Albert Kendall and Mrs. Bert Kendall at Lovell.

The night of meeting of Sabattus Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., has been changed from the second and fourth Monday to the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

The next regular meeting of the Woman's Library club will be at the library, Wednesday, Feb. 28, when the following program will be presented: Roll call, answered with quotations from Shakespeare; Trips about England; Sketch of Shakespeare's Life; Sonnet from Shakespeare; Questions; Pronunciation.

Friday evening, Feb. 16, the drama, Penalty of Pride, was repeated at Willey's hall. There was a good crowd present. The drama was played in a very able manner and it would be hard work for anyone to pick out the best actor or for every one of them was more than good. There was something doing all the time. No long waits that would cause a man to think of his creditors, and to wonder if his heels would lay on the morrow. Fine music was furnished by Charles Rose, violin; Will Berry, piano; W. B. Lord, cornet; Ralph Hurd, trap drummer. The next in order after the drama was an oyster supper in the hall below. All that is necessary to say in regard to it is that the new menu made by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pears, and everybody within 10 miles of Lovell knows that means a corker. After supper a social dance was enjoyed by a goodly number. We hope that they may have just one more play before the sleighing breaks up.

TREE SURGERY AS A FINE ART

Its Incalculable Value In Specific Instances.

OBVIATES OLD DIFFICULTIES.

Cheaper to Employ Experts Than to Let Neglect Force Use of the Ax and Impose Avoidable Expense Upon the Community.

In a moderate sized city in the middle west, relates L. G. Vair in the American City, the mayor was discussing with the superintendent of parks the beauty of a large elm tree that rose to sturdy height in the most noticeable portion of the principal park. The spread of the branches was more than 100 feet and the lower of these, hanging pendant, swept the blue grass lawn as they gracefully yielded to the will of the spasmodic breeze.

"It seems to me," said the mayor, "that $5,000 would but modestly represent the value of that one tree to this city."

"Yes," was the reply, "you are right, yet I am much worried for fear the split, as you can see, where the trunk separates into all those large arms or branches. After every rain water seeps out at the bottom of that crack, which has caused the whitish streaked appearance of the bark that you notice. We never have a severe storm without losing at least one of the trees in the parks, because it is rent asunder where a split, similar to that one, has been."

In the course of time an estate owning friend of the mayor mentioned in a letter to him that he was having "tree surgery" to save the fine trees about his house and along his drives.

Following an investigation some "tree surgeons" were engaged by the city to save the elm, the end of which had seemed so assured. Not only that tree but many other important ones were given into the skillful care of the surgeons. Each year since that city has had as many additional trees treated and saved by those experts as appropriations would permit. It is cheaper, far cheaper, for any city as it was for that city to secure the services of competent tree surgeons and thus save its park and street trees than to neglect them until they die or must be cut down for reasons of public safety.

Citizens of Quincy, Ill., worried over the decline of their park trees until competent tree surgeons came and gave to all the old park trees a new lease of life.

The parks of New Orleans offer a good contrast between trees properly cared for and trees improperly treated. In Audubon park especially many of the trees have been "killed" with cement in a way which is now commonly known to be harmful—that is, with the filling put in over the bark.

It will be well to bear in mind at ways that tree surgery is not a branch of forestry nor of the landscaping or nursery business. It is a distinct science requiring special preparation and much actual experience.

An Appeal.

A series of postcards, being reproductions of photographs of children before and after playgrounds were opened, has been issued by the Playgrounds Association of Philadelphia as a means of extending its campaign for the benefit of "Young America."
